

Exploring Ruby (Mixed Delivery)

(Prof. Mark Keane)

Plans for the Coming Weeks

Week 10 (Nov 13th- Nov 19th, 2017)

Thursday, Nov 16th, 13.00-14.00 hours, Active Learning Lab (B1.06)

During this period we will not have the usual practical class but will, instead, have a briefing lecture on the class exams to be done during Weeks 11 and 12. I will also answer questions on any outstanding parts of Ruby that are unclear to you (please e-mail me these queries, at least, 2 days before the class). It is strongly recommended that you attend this briefing session in person.

[Sample questions from previous exam papers for COMP 41100 are available online]

Week 11 (Nov 20th- Nov 26th, 2017)

Thursday, Nov 23rd, 13.00-14.00 hours, Active Learning Lab (B1.06)

Class Exam #1 will be held instead of the normal practical hour. You should make sure to be present in the Active Learning Lab at 13.00 hours, precisely. Note, normal exam rules hold. So, you will need to have your STUDENT CARD with you, to verify your identity, and NO LATE ENTRY will be allowed. The exam will begin precisely at 13.05 hours and will finish at 13.50 hours (i.e., 45 mins duration).

Week 12 (Nov 27th- Dec 3rd, 2017)

Thursday, Nov 30th, 13.00-14.00 hours, Active Learning Lab (B1.06)

Class Exam #2 will be held instead of the normal practical hour. You should make sure to be in the Active Learning Lab at 13.00 hours, precisely. Note, normal exam rules hold. So, you will need to have your STUDENT CARD with you, to verify your identity, and NO LATE ENTRY will be allowed. The exam will begin precisely at 13.05 hours and will finish at 13.50 hours (i.e., 45 mins duration).
